Ohio Missions

June 2008

It was a strange month in Ohio. It rained a bunch and we spent a lot time under severe storm watches and warnings.. Several towns have been flooded and trees uprooted, but the Lord keeps His church and property safe. We averaged 50 for the month of June with a high of 76 on the last Sunday in June. Our people are starting to go on vacations and trips which is good because everyone needs time to refresh themselves.

We were also blessed with several visitors in June. Some first timers and some repeats. We had one saved in June. It was my brother Hal's granddaughter. His son, wife and granddaughter have moved to Clyde from Michigan. We are looking forward to working with them. God is so good to us.

We have sold mom's house already. It should close before the month is over. We plan to start building as soon as we can. It will take a lot more money than we got out of the house. But our God is an awesome God and will supply as we need it. I still believe we can do this debt free, so far we are. We are asking God's people to help us show this community just what God can do with people of faith. Most that I talk to are so far in debt that they are not able to function the way they should. We thank God every day for helping us remain debt free.

We are back out on visitation now. We have a good group that visits. Pray for us as we go. If we have had some health issues this past month and its still going on, so please pray for me. We love you all and are thankful for all that you have done for Ohio missions.

Monthly letter from one of the church members this month is Jan Shaull:

I want to write about what Shiloh Missionary Baptist Chapel means to me and my family. It actually started back in the early 1970's. In Newport, Oregon at Trinity Missionary Baptist Church. Bro. Rod was our pastor there too. It's not about a name...it's about a "people" that truly love the Lord and have a passion for seeing lost souls come to know Jesus.

My husband and I have been to other churches between then and now, my feeling is that not all churches are so filled with the presence of the Holy Spirit. I am thankful that we came back to Ohio where my husband is from. I am so thankful that Bro Rod and Sis Kathie moved backed here, too, with such a zeal to be missionaries and start a church with other true believers of God's word. If you have been here, then you already know. One thing that makes me happy and I can appreciate is that it does not matter where or when you run into your church family they are the same outside of church as they are in church. "That" you don't see in so many churches.

Love in Christ,
Sister Janice Shaull
